KISD to send home criteria for free lunch

Applications for free and reduced-priced meals will be sent home with all KISD students the first day of school, along with a letter describing the program in detail.

Applications also are available at the front office of each school or may be downloaded from the KISD Web site at www.katyisd.org.

To apply for free or reduced-price meals, an adult household member should complete the application and mail it to the school in the child’s school, an adult must sign the application, either the head of the household or the adult with whom the child resides, as eligibility is determined on an annual basis.

Application forms are available in English and Spanish and may be submitted at any time during the school year. For information about the National School Lunch Program’s free and reduced-price meals, contact the KISD Food Services Department at 281-396-4240.

Each student will be judged on his ability to bring in a stimulated flock of ducks with a minimum of 90 seconds to blow a hurt or one of the following calls: long distance, mating, or hunting. A duck call for all $20 at the store where they talk to each other.

There’s a lot of (duck) calls,” Cheatheam said. “There’s the cheerleader duck, the snorting duck, the something that was called the ‘howl duck’ by the one who did that call. And ducks aren’t as simple-minded as you’d think. They make different sounds when they want different things.

Grapevine, Texas, with Newell Cheatheam of Katy leading the charge as calling champions.

And ducks aren’t as simple-minded as you’d think. They make different sounds when they want different things.

“Katy ARTreach uses art programming and arts instruction to help build self-confidence and discipline,” Huntley said.

“The arts teach creative problem solving skills, build self-confidence and self-discipline.”

Katy ARTreach serves Katy’s School District’s underserved school communities and at-risk populations, has served children in adjoining Harris, Waller, and Fort Bend Counties.

For more information about the program, visit www.katyartrach.org.

Call of the wild

Ducks feed me on the way they quack and waddle on their stubby legs to be downstream early. But apparently, some people still like ducks, enough to want to carry on a conversation with them.

Black horses across the state will compete in the Texas State Championship Duck Calling Contest on Aug. 5 in Grapevine, Texas, with Newell Cheatheam of Katy leading the charge as calling champions.

And ducks aren’t as simple-minded as you’d think. They make different sounds when they want different things.

“Katy ARTreach serves Katy’s School District’s underserved school communities and at-risk populations, has served children in adjoining Harris, Waller, and Fort Bend Counties.

For more information about the program, visit www.katyartrach.org.

Call of the wild

Ducks feed me on the way they quack and waddle on their stubby legs to be downstream early. But apparently, some people still like ducks, enough to want to carry on a conversation with them.

Black horses across the state will compete in the Texas State Championship Duck Calling Contest on Aug. 5 in Grapevine, Texas, with Newell Cheatheam of Katy leading the charge as calling champions.

And ducks aren’t as simple-minded as you’d think. They make different sounds when they want different things.

“Katy ARTreach serves Katy’s School District’s underserved school communities and at-risk populations, has served children in adjoining Harris, Waller, and Fort Bend Counties.

For more information about the program, visit www.katyartrach.org.

Call of the wild

Ducks feed me on the way they quack and waddle on their stubby legs to be downstream early. But apparently, some people still like ducks, enough to want to carry on a conversation with them.

Black horses across the state will compete in the Texas State Championship Duck Calling Contest on Aug. 5 in Grapevine, Texas, with Newell Cheatheam of Katy leading the charge as calling champions.

And ducks aren’t as simple-minded as you’d think. They make different sounds when they want different things.

“Katy ARTreach serves Katy’s School District’s underserved school communities and at-risk populations, has served children in adjoining Harris, Waller, and Fort Bend Counties.

For more information about the program, visit www.katyartrach.org.

Call of the wild

Ducks feed me on the way they quack and waddle on their stubby legs to be downstream early. But apparently, some people still like ducks, enough to want to carry on a conversation with them.

Black horses across the state will compete in the Texas State Championship Duck Calling Contest on Aug. 5 in Grapevine, Texas, with Newell Cheatheam of Katy leading the charge as calling champions.

And ducks aren’t as simple-minded as you’d think. They make different sounds when they want different things.

“Katy ARTreach serves Katy’s School District’s underserved school communities and at-risk populations, has served children in adjoining Harris, Waller, and Fort Bend Counties.

For more information about the program, visit www.katyartrach.org.

Call of the wild

Ducks feed me on the way they quack and waddle on their stubby legs to be downstream early. But apparently, some people still like ducks, enough to want to carry on a conversation with them.

Black horses across the state will compete in the Texas State Championship Duck Calling Contest on Aug. 5 in Grapevine, Texas, with Newell Cheatheam of Katy leading the charge as calling champions.

And ducks aren’t as simple-minded as you’d think. They make different sounds when they want different things.

“Katy ARTreach serves Katy’s School District’s underserved school communities and at-risk populations, has served children in adjoining Harris, Waller, and Fort Bend Counties.

For more information about the program, visit www.katyartrach.org.

Call of the wild

Ducks feed me on the way they quack and waddle on their stubby legs to be downstream early. But apparently, some people still like ducks, enough to want to carry on a conversation with them.

Black horses across the state will compete in the Texas State Championship Duck Calling Contest on Aug. 5 in Grapevine, Texas, with Newell Cheatheam of Katy leading the charge as calling champions.

And ducks aren’t as simple-minded as you’d think. They make different sounds when they want different things.

“Katy ARTreach serves Katy’s School District’s underserved school communities and at-risk populations, has served children in adjoining Harris, Waller, and Fort Bend Counties.

For more information about the program, visit www.katyartrach.org.

Call of the wild

Ducks feed me on the way they quack and waddle on their stubby legs to be downstream early. But apparently, some people still like ducks, enough to want to carry on a conversation with them.

Black horses across the state will compete in the Texas State Championship Duck Calling Contest on Aug. 5 in Grapevine, Texas, with Newell Cheatheam of Katy leading the charge as calling champions.

And ducks aren’t as simple-minded as you’d think. They make different sounds when they want different things.

“Katy ARTreach serves Katy’s School District’s underserved school communities and at-risk populations, has served children in adjoining Harris, Waller, and Fort Bend Counties.

For more information about the program, visit www.katyartrach.org.